SWEENEY REPLIES TO HIS CRITICS

JUSTICE OF SUPREME COURT SAYS IMPERATIVE DUTY TO TAKE PART IN POLITICS.

James G. Sweeney, associate justice of the supreme court, who has been the subject of considerable criticism at the hands of members of the convention and the press against his active participation in the proceedings at the recent Democratic buzz fest has the following to say in support of his contention that it is the duty of every citizen irrespective of what office he holds to participate therein:

"Everyone is entitled to his opinion in this matter, but in so far as I am personally concerned, I deem it not only the privilege of a supreme judge, but an imperative duty, and particularly when an issue or principle such as was at stake in the Tonopah convention is involved. I have no apologies whatever to make for my activity and intend to do my duty to my state from a civic standpoint, as I see and believe right. I do not believe that because I happen to be a supreme judge, that I am precluded from expressing my opinions on political issues, nor that because occupying this position, I cannot participate in standing for the principles I believe right and that I must stand aside and allow others to make platforms declaring principles which I believed are opposed to the best interests of my state. Nor do I feel that I am precluded from advocating the nomination of men who stand for my principles, as against others who might not. I understand my judicial and civic duties and intend to perform them both as I see the light."

Regarding Congressman Bartlett's nomination Judge Sweeney said he believed him politically one of the strongest men on the ticket, and believed that for his manly and open support of Governor Sparks in bringing about the industrial peace Nevada enjoys today, he should and will be elected by an overwhelming majority.

"Judge Sparks sacrificed his very life," said Judge Sweeney, "for this reign of peace we enjoy in this state, and those who are attempting to take the political life of Congressman Bartlett because of his support given Governor Sparks, should and will be defeated in their purpose."

PERSONAL MENTION

J. C. Dirlam is in this city.

Paul Tarpey has returned to Tonopah after a several week's visit in the Mormon capital.

Miss Ethel Hunsaker left yesterday for Goldfield, where she will remain for some time.

Fred Corkill, general manager of the great West End, returned from a trip to the coast yesterday.

Prof. Claude Shoer has returned to Tonopah and now the school children imagine that they hear the tinkling of the bell that causes them to get busy.

If you desire ruling or binding in a first-class manner call up the Bonanza and our solicitor will attend to your wants.

ATWOOD TAKES ON RENEWED VIGOR

RICHARDSON MILL IS RUNNING NIGHT AND DAY GIVING GOOD RETURNS.

A. V. Gillingham, who is just in from Atwood, states that the district has taken on new life and reports quite a good deal of activity there. The litigation over ore from the Pacolus has been settled and the various parties to the controversy have now a nice little amount of money to divide up between themselves.

The Smallwood mine on Paradise mountain has been recently sold for a goodly sum and the new owners propose to inaugurate a campaign of development on a good sized scale.

M. L. Butler has just returned from the coast, bringing with him a large party of capitalists. He has struck a good body of ore at the 250-foot level that goes $300 a ton. Mr. Butler has a great deal of ore sacked on his property and will shortly begin hauling to the smelter.

The Richardson mill is running night and day and the cleanup which has just been made was forwarded to the mint.

On the Griggs-Atwood lease they are sacking ore which they will send to the Richardson mill to be handled as soon as they finish the run from the Pawnee mine. James Miller, the well known mill man, was unfortunate to fracture his right shoulder and it will be several weeks before he can resume work at the mill.

Arthur Gardner has secured a property in the Paradise mountains that was worked some thirty-five years ago. In those days ore was packed to Austin on burros and then put on the train and shipped to the smelters. They have a hole down thirty feet and Mr. Gardner will commence the work of sinking deeper at once. They have drifted at the thirty-foot level twenty feet to the south and twelve feet to the west. In the twenty-foot drift he has encountered a vein of ore which contains lead, silver and silver chlorides.

W. Dee Jones, the pioneer merchant of Goldfield, in order to accommodate the travel has established a four-horse stage service from Goldyke to Luning. This is made necessary to accommodate the travel that is setting in that way.

The Gold Crown, the property of Frank Everett, has put another shift of men to work and are getting ready to make a big shipment.

The Atwood Mines company will shortly resume work on their Contact mine and expect to continue right on indefinitely.

GUILD MEETING.

The regular meeting of St. Mark's Guild will be held in the guild room on Friday, September 4, at 2:30 p. m. All members are urged to make a special effort to be present. Mrs. E. L. Kidd and Mrs. J. W. Landquist will be the hostess.

KATE KIDD, Secretary.

ST. MARK'S CHURCH.

The parish meeting called for Wednesday, September 2, will be postponed till Monday, September 7, on account of the meeting of the convention. All supporters of this parish are requested to be present September 7 at 8 o'clock in the evening.

DO YOU KNOW

That from October 1st, 1907, to June 1st, 1909, a period in which occurred the greatest financial disturbance experienced in the United States in fifty years, not one National Bank in Nevada, California, Idaho, Montana, Oregon, or Washington, was forced out of business by the stringency.

Is not a bank financially strong and sufficiently resourceful to have escaped the extreme effects of the panic of last fall worthy of your confidence?

DIZZY BUNCH HITS TONOPAH

BOSTON BLOOMER GIRLS PASS THE BUNK TO BASEBALL FANS.

Pause stranger and drop a tear.

That great and grand aggregation known as the Boston Bloomers blew into Tonopah yesterday, from where nobody knows. They leave this morning. Nobody cares.

There was Maudie and Maizie and Dottie and Kattie and Carrie, and Blanche on the bench with her mitt done up in cotton batting, who might have been a sub and who might have been there for effect. They were typical Kansas boarding house biscuit shooters and must have come in on a wild tornado. Two of them were bow legged, two pigeon toed and one with a twisted knee cap, and all shoulder bound save Carrie on first, who was there like a duck in a rain storm. As for looks they would have not only stopped a seven-day clock, but Old Sol went behind a cloud for fifteen minutes and then showed with redoubled fury to get an even break. A band of Sioux warriors would have gone sixteen miles out of their way to avoid this homey bunch. Tonopah has had to stand for a good many things, but this was the limit. Had they sprung this string of lilies on the Democratic convention the delegates would have left town immediately after the five hours' wrestle with the credentials committee's report, and as for their feet there is no political party's platform broad enough for them to get on a plank. It is lucky for this bunch of gratters that the chief of the fire department did not get hold of them after sounding the false alarm of fire for they would have been given a bath that would have lasted them for at least a month and we may be pardoned for saying that they looked as if they needed it. The next time the Boston Bloomers hit Tonopah it should be with a scrubbing brush and a sign, "Wanted a day's work," in place of a canvas fence that had within its confines the biggest aggregation of freaks ever turned loose in the sagebrush or any other country.

With press dispatches galore and each player with a reputation as long as your arm and posing as the original Boston team they undertook to show the fans of Tonopah a few things about the game that we didn't understand. And they did. They showed us a few overgrown ankles. That's all.

In the first inning they had one of the bloomer girls in the box, but in the second they put a man in her stead, who knew something about the game. There were five girls and four men composing the aggregation. The only girl who really understood anything about the art was the lady on first base, who was in the game the entire time. She could play her position well and her rooting made even the seasoned fans keep their silence. The rest of the team were novices at the game. Skillman, the new acquisition of the Eagles-Elks, made his first appearance with that team and with his help the Eagles should finish the season at the top of the column. He has been playing in the coast league and has speed and curves and is also a good batter.

The score at the end of the game was 7 to 0 in the local team's favor, and had the boys let themselves out the game might have been called off in the fourth inning on account of darkness with a score of about 63 to 9.

FIREMEN ASKED TO GET BUSY

All members of the volunteer fire department are urgently requested to appear in person or send a proxy to assist in the work of excavating for the gymnasium building Saturday and Sunday mornings. The committee having this matter in charge are in hopes that each individual fireman will perform his duty in this respect as he does in all others. The appeal is made for the purpose of pushing the work to a finish as it is the intention to commence the construction of the gymnasium as soon as the work of excavation has been finished.

DOCTOR JEKYLL AND MR. HYDE

Stevenson's best effort has been dramatized and the initial performance of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde will be seen in Tonopah this evening for the first time. The tragedy of a dual life is shown in all its completeness, and the transformation scene is depicted with finish and precision. A great deal might be said of this story, but after one reads the book it is above the fascinating to see the pictures on canvas.

"Saved From the Wreck," "Taking the Fort," "The End of a Dream," "Reckless Horseman," "Baby Mine" and "His Toys," new motion pictures, are part of a new program that is clever. Billy Walker in new songs. Nora Emmett singing ballads. The Butler tonight.
